

Longevity Residence

The Vision

This is the first development of its kind on the island. A private community of villas designed around one idea: a long, healthy, and beautiful life without giving up comfort or elegance.

The quality of materials is uncompromising. Natural sources, premium finishes, thermo-glazed windows, central cooling and ventilation systems built to perform in the tropics. Every villa has its own private pool. Soundproofing throughout ensures your space stays truly yours.

What Is Longevity?

Longevity is more than simply living longer. It is the science and practice of maximizing the number of years you spend in genuinely good health sharp, strong, and full of energy.

It draws on the latest research in medicine, nutrition, sleep, movement, and biology to understand why we age and what we can do to slow that process. The goal is not just a longer life, but a better one. More years where you feel well, move freely, think clearly, and enjoy everything life has to offer.

At Bophut Longevity Park, this philosophy is not a concept on a brochure. It is built into the walls, the light, the water, and the daily rhythm of your home.

Longevity, Built Into the Home

- Circadian lighting systems that align with your body's natural rhythm throughout the day
- Cooled mattresses for deeper, more restorative sleep
- Full blackout in every bedroom
- Filtered water at every point of use
- Infrared sauna and ice bath for recovery and cellular health
- Smart body composition scales tracking fat percentage and key metrics
- VO2 max testing to measure and improve cardiovascular fitness
- Personalized nutrition, a dietitian composes your dietary plan around your health data
- Ice bath: It makes your immune system stronger and your skin tighter

The development partners with a world-class wellness operator, along the lines of Legacy Spa bringing a full spa and fitness center to the community. Residents have access to professional-grade recovery, movement, and longevity services steps from their front door.

The Investment

- 10% fixed annual ROI
- 3-year buyback guarantee
- Freehold villa, leasehold land

There is nothing like this on Koh Samui. The combination of Dubai-level quality, Thai lifestyle, and a genuine longevity infrastructure makes this a singular opportunity for those who want to live well, and invest wisely.
