

THE LONGEVITY CENTRE

Designed for longevity-
focused living.

PLAI LAEM · KOH SAMUI · THAILAND

WHY WE STARTED

We were looking for this place. We couldn't find it, so we built it.

We wanted somewhere to live well for a long time. Sun on the skin most days of the year. Food worth eating. Water to swim in before work. A house quiet enough to sleep properly, and a place to train, recover and be looked after by doctors, without leaving the island to find it.

There were resorts with spas and clinics in cities, but nowhere that put the two together and made it home. So we stopped looking and started building: a private residential estate with a medical-grade longevity centre inside it, on an island that already does half the work for you.

THE PLACE

Where better to build a longer life than an island that lives like this?

Koh Samui gives you sunlight almost every day of the year, warm sea within walking distance, fish and fruit picked close to where you eat them, and a pace that lowers your shoulders the moment you arrive. Longevity is easier where daily life already points that way.

ISLAND PRODUCE, DAILY

The places where people live longest have more in common than genetics.

In the handful of regions known as blue zones, people reach very old age in good health without trying. What they share is not a supplement or a clinic. It is daily life: sunlight, movement built into the day, simple fresh food, low stress, strong community and good sleep. We designed the estate around the same five habits, then added what the blue zones never had: measurement and modern medicine.

Sunlight and movement

Outdoor living, walkable lanes, swimming and training as part of the day rather than an appointment.

Simple, fresh food

Local fish, fruit and vegetables, with nutrition guidance for those who want it.

Low stress, better sleep

Quiet, soundproofed homes with circadian lighting, in a gated estate you never have to leave.

Community

Sixty-plus residences and shared wellness spaces, so the people around you live the same way.

Our ambition is simple: to build a place that could one day belong on that map.

Not more years. Better ones.

Longevity is often sold as lifespan. What people actually want is healthspan: the number of years you feel and function well. That is not one thing you buy, it is six things you keep working on, and each of them can be measured, improved and measured again.

Sleep

Deeper, more consistent nights: the foundation everything else rests on.

Energy

Steady through the day, without the afternoon collapse.

Strength

Muscle and bone kept, not lost, the clearest predictor of an independent old age.

Recovery

Bouncing back faster from training, travel and illness.

Clarity

Focus, mood and memory that hold up under load.

Appearance

Skin, posture and vitality that match how you feel inside.

OUR GOAL

Most people find out how they are doing once something has already gone wrong.

We think you should find out first, and then do something about it, close to home, year after year.

That is why the longevity centre is not a spa bolted onto a resort. It is the reason the resort exists. Diagnostics, recovery, nutrition and performance support are brought together in one private setting, within walking distance of every villa, so looking after yourself stops being a trip you schedule and becomes part of the day.

The goal is not just a longer life, but a better one.

Measure. Understand. Act. Measure again.

01 A full picture, taken properly

Biological age, DNA, bloods, metabolism, body composition, cardiovascular and skin analysis, done in one place, over a few days.

02 One clear explanation

A physician reads the results together, not as separate reports, and tells you plainly where you stand and what matters most.

03 A plan you can actually live

Therapies, nutrition, training and recovery scheduled around your week, all of it a short walk from your door.

04 Progress you can prove

Re-tested at intervals, so improvement is demonstrated rather than assumed, and the plan adapts as you change.

DIAGNOSTICS

Everything we treat,
we measure first.

A complete baseline of where your body stands today, read as one picture rather than a folder of separate results.

Biological Age Test How old you actually are

DNA Longevity Program Genetic profiling

Advanced Blood Analysis Full laboratory panel

DEXA Body Scan Bone and composition

VO₂ Max Test Aerobic capacity

InBody Assessment Bioimpedance

Gut Microbiome Analysis Digestion and immunity

CGM Metabolic Program Continuous glucose

Vascular Age Test Arterial health

Skin Age Analysis Imaging analysis

Hormone Optimization

Imbalances investigated and treated under medical supervision.

Executive Consultation

A physician-led review that turns every result into one plan.

The work that moves the numbers.

Hyperbaric Oxygen

Pressurised oxygen to support healing, cognition and recovery.

Whole Body Cryotherapy

Short, intense cold to calm inflammation and sharpen energy.

Full Body Red Light

Photobiomodulation for skin, muscle recovery and cellular energy.

Cold Plunge

Ice immersion for firmer skin, resilience and a stronger immune response.

PEMF Therapy

Pulsed electromagnetic fields to support circulation and repair.

Neurofeedback

Real-time EEG training for focus, stress and sleep quality.

Vitamin & NAD+ Lounge

Targeted IV protocols, prescribed from your results rather than a menu.

Nutrition & Performance

Eating and training guidance built around your metabolism and goals.

The instruments behind every result.

The centre is fitted with clinical equipment normally found in specialist hospitals and elite performance institutes, selected so that every result we quote is measured on instruments a physician would trust.

Hyperbaric chamber

Pressurised medical oxygen at up to 2.0 ATA.

DEXA scanner

Clinical bone density and body composition imaging.

Red light array

Full body photobiomodulation panel.

Vitamin and NAD+ lounge

Physician led intravenous protocols in a private lounge.

Laser skin rejuvenation

Pico laser, HIFU and radiofrequency platforms.

Laboratory analyser

On site blood panels, read the same day.

AESTHETICS

Looking as well as you feel, done to the same standard.

A full aesthetics clinic inside the centre, run by doctors, planned for the whole face rather than one feature at a time.
